GEN. LONG'S FUNERAL

THE CASKET DECORATIONS AS THE SOLDIER LAY IN STATE.

mmense Concourse-Pall-Bearers-Proession-Services and Tribute-At Rest-Last Salutes -- Veterans' Resolutions.

[Special telegram to the Dispatch.] CHARLOTTESVILLE, May 2.—Since 11 o'clock Friday morning the body of the dead soldier had lain in state at his residence on High street, sentineled by a guard of honor detailed by Company D, Monticello Guard. The General was dressed in a suit of Confederate gray. On the lapel of his coat was a hand-painted badge of two

MEMERICES OF GENERAL LEE. MEMENTOES OF GENERAL LEE.

At another point was a picture of Valentine's recumbent statue of General Lee, before which was banked a profusion of flowers, among which the lily of the valley predominated. A portrait of General Lee on "Traveller" was draped with Virginia and Confederate flags. Opposite this was the portraitly General Joseph E. Johnston, cant by him to Mrs. Long. In another part of the room was the sourceuir letter with the pansy in the centre, sent by the Mayor of New Orleans on the occasion of funeral of the President of the Confederacy.

AB BRIGADIES-GENERAL. AS BEIGADIER-GENERAL.

A picture of General Long in his uniform as brigadier-general of artillery hung over the mantel. It was artistically draped with ivy. At the right of it was a picture of General R. E. Lee, and about both was banked a profusion of handsome flowers. A noticeable feature of the room's decorations was the splendid floral tribute—a pillow of tea rosebuds and calla-lilies, surmounted by a cross and crown, woven of heliotrope and smilax—sent by the clerks in the Charlottesville post-office and the University postal-station.

The funeral was the most notable that has occurred here within the memory of many. A concourse of people, variously estimated at from 2,000 to 3,000, witnessed the obseques. In obedience to a request of the Mavor all business-houses suspended between the hours of 10:30 A. M. and 12:30 P. M.

VETERAN PALL-BEARERS.

At 11 o'clock the casket was conveyed to the church by the following veterans as pall-bearers: R. W. Duke, James Woods, Dr. H. T. Nelson, L. T. Hanckel, Dr. Towels, W. L. Randolph, R. Hernden Fife, and Dr. W. E. Norris. The honorary pall-bearers were: Colonel Cutshaw, of Richmond: Captain Robert F. Lee, Jr.: Colonel Walter Taylor, of Norfolk: Maior Garber, of Richmond: Colonel C. S. Venable, General Thomas L. Rosser, Major Horace W. Jones, Captain H. C. Michie, Colonel Thomas L. Preston, J. W. Mallet, Colonel C. C. Wertenbaker, C. D. Fishburne, Major Green Peyton, and Major R. F. Mason.

The John Bowie Strange Camp of Confederate Veterans were drawn up in line near the funeral-car, as was also the Monticello Guard; the former under command near the funeral car, as was also the Mon-ticello Guard: the former under command of Captain C. E. Vawter and the latter under the command of Captain T. S. Keller. THE PROCESSION.

the dead as provided by the Episcopal Church were read by the rector, Dr. J. S. Hanckel.

Dr. Hanckel also delivered a short but just and appropriate tribute to the character of the dead soldier, whom he regarded as no ordinary man. Although General Long's services in the field were highly distinguished and honorable, the preacher considered that his best laurels were won in the harder and more trying contests on the field of faith. Seventeen years ago the soldier of his country had stood at that chancel to take service as a soldier of God, and his rector was prepared to testify with what faithfulness he had performed his vows. He entered upon his life a Christian with very grave enemies and trials to overcome, because he was an impetuous, impatient, self-willed man. But those who knew him most intimately could testify to the unnurmaring patience with which he bore his troubles, not the least of which was his total blindness. The rector said God had brought on wonderful changes in the man, and the man had fought a desperate battle, fought it nobly and won it grandly, and had been grandly crowned with victory. In his half century as a Christian minister he had not seen a more lovable character than that possessed by General Long. The prayer which followed the discourse was offered by Dr. George L. Petrie, of the Presbyterian church, chaplain of the John Bowie Strange Camp of Veterans, werth Millerka Roxons.

In the march to the cemetery the same

WITH MILITARY HONORS. WITH MILITARY HONORS.

In the march to the cemetery the same order was observed as was followed to the church. The Guards, veterans, and thousands of people gathered around the grave where the burial services were conducted. An artillery sainte of eleven guns was fired by the veterans, and over the grave three volleys by the Monticello Guard. Two battle-scared flags were planted at the bead and foot of the grave.

The floral designs were very beautiful.

Among the handsome pieces were offerings from this city in profusion, from Richmond, New York, and other cities.

BOWIE-CAMP RESOLUTIONS.

At a meeting of John Bowie Strange Camp, Confederate Veterans, held last night Sergeant R. H. Fife was given charge of the gun and caisson, and Colonel C. C. Wertenbaker appointed marshal. The camp bought a large section in Maple-wood cemetery, where General Long was buried to-day.

The following resolutions were unanimously adopted by the John Bowie Strange Camp, seconded in a beautiful manner by Dr. W. C. N. Randolph:

WEATHER AND CROPS.

Lyncheure, Va., May 2.—The Virginia weekly weather crop bulletin, based on reports from voluntary crop correspondents through the State, and published by the United States Signal Service, for the week ending Friday, May 1, 1891:

Reports for the past seven days show hat there has been very little, and in lost sections no rains. These conditions, a view of the previous dry weather, have used a delay in many places and a stoppage of the preparation of ground for corn.

All crops are needing rain, and new grass is largely killed in many sections. There were light freets in some sections on one or two mornings, but no damage was canned thereby, and all the fruits are probably safe in that respect, and there is a prospect of an abundant crop of all kinds of fruit. Wheat, barley, and grass continue to advance. Early corn and oats are in very good condition.

REBATE CLAIMS ON TOBACCOL Some Yet Unsettled-The Governor Will Pass on the Randall-Watson Petition

This Week-Drummer Fined. [Corrpesondence of the Richmond Dispatch.] PETERSEURG, VA., May 2.—The tobacco-rebate claims in the Second internal reve-nue district, which embraces one half of the State of Virginia, have, with few ex-ceptions, all been allowed by the Treasury Department at Washington, and the drafts delivered to the chimants.

delivered to the claimants.

Many of these claims were paid nearly a month ago, and since they were prepared and filed, examined, and approved by Collector Brady there has been no complaint on the part of the owners. The largest claim allowed was that of a big Richmond firm, amounting to $3.505.58.

the part of the owners. The largest claim allowed was that of a big Richmond firm, amounting to $8,305.58.

At the present time only twenty of these claims remain unsettled at Washington—two for this city, three in Richmond, seven in Norfolk and Portsmouth, and eight in other sections of the district. There may be complaints in other districts of the country and delay at Washington because of the failure to properly prepare and certify these claims, but in this district they have been paid with remarkable promptness, which shows a careful observance of the regulations in the preparation and spiroval of them.

The warson perition.

It is understood that the Governor will pass upon Randall Watson's petition for a pardon or commutation of sentence next week, and from the weight of the perition and the recommendation for Executive clemency by four of the Supreme Court Judges it is believed that the Governor will act favorably to the prisoner.

[Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.]
Frigoriticksburg, VA., May 2.—The jury's verdict in the McCracken murder case con-redict rendered by a jury for years has been as severely criticised as this one. The jury was composed of our best citizens, and it is but just to them to say that according to the law and the testimony of the medical experts they did their duty conscientiously, although it was neither the sentiment nor the verdict of the people, as was attested by criticisms both in public and private places.

Mr. Robert Hast, an aged and highly-esteemed citizen of this city, died at his residence here to-day after a lingering illness, the oldest Mason in this city, and also the oldest member of Lodge No. 4, A. A STABLE WEEGETT

During the storm which prevailed in this section yesterday a large tree was blown across the barn of Mr. George Ferneyhough near this city, which completely wrecked it. Two horses that were in the stable at the time were so wedged in between the timbers that it required two hours before they could be extricated. Neither was 'dangerously injured. Reports from other portions of the county state that the wind demolished a number of trees and that the hall was very destructive to fruit-trees.

At the foot of the casket were twined two Confederate flags—one used during the entire war, sent by Major Garber, and the other, which saw similar service, sent from Lynchburg by Major Latham. On the stars which blazoned the latter were written the name of the battles in which the banner had floated. At the head of the casket was splendid portrait of Edward Vose Sumner Long, son of the General, who died in 1888. The picture was draped with white and covored with flowers.
